

PERU

carved gourds

Gourds in varying shapes and sizes are transformed into art in the Andean mountain town of Cochas Chico, where almost 80% of adults specialize in the art of gourd carving.

After the gourds are dried in the sun, artisans sketch designs on the gourds and then incise them by hand. Images range from simple motifs to complex stories. Rich brown colors are added by applying a flame from a small torch to parts of the design.

PERU

carved gourds

Gourds in varying shapes and sizes are transformed into art in the Andean mountain town of Cochas Chico, where almost 80% of adults specialize in the art of gourd carving.

After the gourds are dried in the sun, artisans sketch designs on the gourds and then incise them by hand. Images range from simple motifs to complex stories. Rich brown colors are added by applying a flame from a small torch to parts of the design.

