

silk-screened fabric

VillageWorks, one of our Fair Trade partners, trains women how to cut and sew hand-printed silk-screened fabric to make bags and wallets. These skills enable them to stay in their villages, revitalizing life in rural Cambodia where work is scarce.

Jasmin Pill, pictured here, grew up in rural Kampong Thom Province. With the support of VillageWorks, she completed her Bachelor's degree and is now one of their production supervisors.
